

Notice of Privacy Practices

This notice describes how medical information about you may be used and disclosed and how you can get access to this information. Please review it carefully.

Effective January 1, 2024

We<sup>1</sup> are required by law to protect the privacy of your health information and to provide you this notice. The notice explains how we may use information about you and when we can give out or “disclose” that information to others. You have rights to your health information that are described in this notice. We are required by law to follow the terms of this notice that is currently in effect.

The terms “information” and “health information” in this notice include information we have that reasonably can be used to identify you and that relates to your physical or mental health condition, the health care you receive or the payment for such health care. We will comply with the requirements of applicable privacy laws related to notifying you in the event of a breach of your health information.

We have the right to change our privacy practices and the terms of this notice at any time. You may obtain the most current notice by visiting the privacy policy section of our websites, listed in the Contact us section on page 5, or by contacting the Optum Entity at the phone number or address listed in the Contact us section. We will mail a copy of the revised notice to you, if you make your request on or after the notice’s effective date. We reserve the right to make any revised or changed notice effective for information we already have and for information that we receive in the future.

How we collect, use, and disclose information

We collect, use, and disclose your health information to provide information to:

- You or someone who has the legal right to act for you (your personal representative), to administer your rights as described in this notice; and
- The Secretary of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, if necessary, to confirm we are meeting our privacy obligations.

We may also collect, use, and disclose health information for your treatment, to bill for your health care and to operate our business. For example, we may collect, use, and disclose your health information:

- For payment, including to obtain payment for your health care services. For example, we may disclose your health information to your health insurance company to collect payment for your pharmacy services.

- For treatment, including to aid in your treatment or the coordination of your care. For example, we may collect information from, or disclose information to, treating physicians or others involved in your care, regarding possible drug interactions.
- For health care operations as needed to operate and manage our business activities related to providing and managing your health care. For example, we might analyze your information to determine ways to improve our services. We may also de-identify health information in accordance with applicable laws. After that information is de-identified, it is no longer subject to this notice and we may use it for any lawful purpose.
- To provide you information on health-related programs or products such as alternative medical treatments and programs about health-related products and services, subject to the limits of the law.
- For reminders we send you about your care, such as prescription-refill reminders.
- For communications to you about treatment, payment or health care operations using telephone numbers or email addresses you provide to us.

We may collect, use, and disclose your health information for the following purposes, under limited circumstances, and subject to certain requirements:

- As required by law to follow the laws that apply to us.
- To persons involved with your care or who help pay for your care, such as a family member, when you are incapacitated or in an emergency, or when you agree or fail to object when given the opportunity. If you are unavailable or unable to object, we will use our best judgment to decide if the disclosure of information is in your best interest. Special rules apply regarding when we may disclose health information about a deceased individual to family members and others. We may disclose health information to any persons involved, prior to the death, in the care or payment for care of a deceased individual, unless we are aware that doing so would be inconsistent with a preference previously expressed by the deceased.
- For public health activities such as reporting or preventing disease outbreaks. We may also use and disclose your information to the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) or persons under the jurisdiction of the FDA for purposes related to safety or quality issues, adverse events or to facilitate drug recalls.
- For reporting victims of abuse, neglect or domestic violence to government authorities that are permitted by law to receive such information, including social services or protective service agencies.
- To health oversight agencies for activities permitted by law, such as licensure, governmental audits, and fraud and abuse investigations.
- For judicial or administrative proceedings such as in response to a court order, search warrant or subpoena.
- For law enforcement purposes to a law enforcement official for purpose such as providing limited information to locate a missing person or report a crime.
- To avoid a serious health or safety threat to you, another person, or the public. For example, disclosing information to public health agencies or law enforcement authorities, or in the event of an emergency or natural disaster.
- For specialized government functions such as military and veteran activities, national security and intelligence activities, and the protective services of the President and others.
- For workers' compensation as permitted by, or to the extent needed to comply with, state workers' compensation laws that govern job-related injuries or illness.

- For research purposes related to evaluating certain treatments or to prevent disease or disability, if the research study meets federal privacy law requirements, or for certain activities related to preparing a research study.
- To provide information regarding decedents. We may disclose information to a coroner or medical examiner to identify a deceased person, determine a cause of death, or as authorized by law. We may also disclose information to funeral directors as necessary to carry out their duties.
- For organ donation purposes to people and organizations who procure, bank or transplant organs, eyes, or tissue, to help with organ donations and transplants.
- To correctional institutions or law enforcement officials if you are an inmate of a correctional institution or under the custody of a law enforcement official, but only if necessary (1) for the institution to provide you with health care; (2) to protect your health and safety or the health and safety of others; or (3) for the safety and security of the correctional institution.
- To business associates that perform activities on our behalf or provide us with services if the information is necessary for such activities or services. Business associates are required, under contract and pursuant to federal law, to protect the privacy of your information.
- To Health Information Exchanges (HIE) in which we participate. An HIE is a way for doctors' offices, hospitals, and other healthcare organizations that provide you with care to share and have access to your health information. In emergency situations where you may be unable provide information, an HIE allows your care providers to quickly view your medical history to take note of allergies or medical conditions that may affect your treatment. HIEs follow applicable state and federal privacy laws on who can access data and for what purpose. If you have questions about whether your information is being shared with an HIE, contact your provider at the number listed in the "Exercising Your Rights" section below.
- Additional restrictions on use and disclosure. Some federal and state laws may require special privacy protections that limit the use and disclosure of certain sensitive health information. Such laws may protect the following types of information:

- |  |                                   |
|--|-----------------------------------|
| 1. Alcohol and substance use disorder                        | 6. HIV/AIDS                       |
| 2. Biometric information                                     | 7. Mental health                  |
| 3. Child or adult abuse or neglect, including sexual assault | 8. Minors' information            |
| 4. Communicable diseases                                     | 9. Prescriptions                  |
| 5. Genetic information                                       | 10. Reproductive health           |
|  | 11. Sexually transmitted diseases |

We will follow more stringent or protective law, where it applies to us.

Except for the allowed and required uses and disclosures described in this notice, we will use and disclose your health information only with written authorization from you. This includes, except for limited circumstances allowed by federal privacy law, not using or disclosing psychotherapy notes about you, selling your health information to others, or using or disclosing your health information for certain marketing communications without your written authorization.

Once you authorize us to use and disclose your health information, you may take back or "revoke" your written authorization at any time in writing. This will not apply to uses and disclosures we have already acted upon based on your initial authorization. For more information on how to revoke your authorization, use the contact information in the section called Exercising your rights.

Your rights, with respect to your health information:

- You have the right to ask to restrict our uses or disclosures of your information for treatment, payment, or health care operations. You also have the right to ask to restrict disclosures to family members or to others who are involved in your health care or payment for your health care. You must make a written request to restrict the use or disclosure of your information. See instructions in the Making a written request section. Please note that while we will try to honor your request, we are not required to agree to any request for restriction except where you have paid for an item or service in full out-of-pocket and request that we not disclose information about that item or service to your health plan. If we do agree with your request for restrictions, we will honor your limits unless it is an emergency situation.
- You have the right to ask to receive confidential communications by asking us to send information by alternative means or at alternative locations – for example, to another address instead of your home address. You must make a written request to receive confidential communications or to cancel or change an earlier request. Please see the section called Making a written request for instructions. We will honor reasonable requests.
- You have the right to ask to make changes to certain health information we maintain about you, such as medical records and billing records, if you believe the health information about you is wrong or incomplete. You must make a written request to change your information and explain your reason(s) for the requested change(s). Please see the Making a written request section for instructions. In certain circumstances, we may deny your request. If we deny your request, you may have a statement of your disagreement added to your health information.
- You have the right to request to see and obtain a copy of certain of your health information maintained by us, such as your medical records and billing records. If we maintain a copy of your health information electronically, you will have the right to request that we send a copy of your health information in an electronic format to you. You can also request that we provide a copy of your information to a third party that you name. In some cases, you also may receive a summary of this health information. You must make a written request to inspect and obtain a copy of your health information. Please see the section called Making a written request for instructions. In certain cases, we may deny your request to inspect and copy your health information. If we deny your request, you may have the right to have the denial reviewed. We may charge a reasonable fee for any copies.
- You have the right to receive a listing of certain disclosures of your information made by us during the six years before your request. This list will not include disclosures of information made: (i) for treatment, payment, and health care operations purposes; (ii) to you or people you authorized; (iii) to correctional institutions or law enforcement officials; and (iv) other disclosures for which federal law does not require us to keep track of. You must submit a written request for a list of disclosures. Please see the Making a written request section for instructions.
- You have the right to request a paper copy of this notice at any time. You may ask for a copy of this notice at any time by contacting us. Even if you have agreed to receive this notice electronically, you can still request additional paper copies of this notice. You may also view and/or print a copy of this notice at our websites, including the websites listed in the Contact us section on page 5.
- In certain states, you may have the right to withhold written consent to the disclosure of reproductive health care services information in certain cases. Depending on your state of residence, we may be required to obtain your written consent before releasing information about your reproductive health care services in certain civil actions or proceedings, subject to some exceptions. In such cases where we are required to obtain your consent, you have the right to withhold your consent.

Exercising your rights

Making a written request. You must submit a written request to exercise your rights described above. Mail your written request to us to exercise any of your rights, including modifying or cancelling a confidential communication, requesting copies of your records, or requesting amendments to your records. If you have questions, please call the appropriate phone number listed below. Or mail your request directly to the appropriate address listed below.
